Stratasys Mails Letter to Shareholders Highlighting the Risks of Nano Dimension's Misleading Campaign

Outlines Dangers of Electing Nano's Non-Independent Slate of Unqualified Director Nominees

Underscores the Coercive Nature of Nano's Partial Tender Offer

Explains Why Yoav Stern, Nano's CEO, Cannot be Trusted with Stratasys

Urges Shareholders to Vote on the WHITE Proxy Card Today "FOR" the Re-Election of Stratasys' Directors

MINNEAPOLIS & REHOVOT, Israel—July 20, 2023—Stratasys Ltd. (Nasdaq: SSYS) ("Stratasys" or the "Company"), a leader in polymer 3D printing solutions, today mailed a letter to shareholders in connection with Stratasys' Annual General Meeting of Shareholders ("the Meeting") on August 8, 2023.

The full text of the letter follows:

The facts are clear and your vote is important. Support the Stratasys Board and VOTE TODAY on the WHITE proxy card "FOR" the re-election of Stratasys' directors. The Stratasys Board urges shareholders NOT to tender into Nano Dimension Ltd.'s ("Nano") coercive partial tender offer, to withdraw any shares previously tendered and to contact their broker and instruct them to file a Notice of Objection.

Yoav Stern, Nano's CEO, cannot be trusted and is not trusted by his own shareholders. Don't be misled by Nano and its inconsistent campaign.

Why You Should Vote FOR Stratasys' Slate

- Stratasys has a highly qualified, independent and diverse Board.
- Mr. Stern admits that Nano's slate of nominees is not independent.
- Nano's slate of nominees is unqualified and all but one are officers of Nano.
- Officers at Nano are not qualified to be Board members of Stratasys, a company that is more than 10x the size of Nano.
- Voting for Nano's slate of nominees means Nano could take control of Stratasys without paying anything to Stratasys shareholders.

Why You Should NOT Tender Your Shares

- Nano's partial tender offer means you may have as little as approximately 40% of your shares purchased, assuming full participation in the offer.
- If Nano's partial tender offer is successful, you could potentially remain a minority shareholder in a Nano-controlled company.
- Nano's partial tender offer implies that your Stratasys shares are valued at approximately $16 to $19 per share or less¹, assuming full participation in the offer.
- Nano has destroyed significant value and displayed disastrous governance.

¹ Illustrative pro-rata price assumes all Stratasys shareholders except Nano tender their aggregate 58.9mm shares and maximum of 25.3mm shares purchased as per Nano tender offer (~40% total shares tendered), leaving 33.6mm shares not purchased (~60% total shares tendered); Calculation based on blended value of shares tendered to Nano at $25 per share and illustrative value of remaining Stratasys shares. The 49% of Stratasys shares illustratively trading as Nano-controlled entity assumes for illustrative purposes a $14.88 unaffected Stratasys share price as of 5/24/2023 before announcement of the transaction with Desktop Metal at the upper end and ~40% discount to Stratasys unaffected price of $14.88 implying ~$9 per share at the low end. For the lower end, the ~40% discount to Stratasys unaffected price applied is calculated on the basis of the average 2023 YTD discount of Nano's share price to its per share value of cash and investments.

Dear Stratasys Shareholder,

Stratasys' management team, overseen by the Stratasys Board of Directors, continues to successfully execute our "North Star" strategy with demonstrable progress toward becoming a $1 billion revenue company. With our winning growth strategy, strong governance practices and purpose-built Board, we are positioned to deliver outsized and enduring shareholder value. However, Nano's coercive partial tender offer and proxy contest to take control of our Board could derail these efforts and destroy shareholder value.

Nano's Director Candidates are Not Qualified...

Five of Nano's nominees are Nano employees, reporting to Mr. Stern. If they are elected to our Board, Nano will take control of Stratasys without having paid a penny to Stratasys shareholders.

In nearly two decades, only two Nano nominees have served on a public company board, with most of the nominees lacking experience running 3D printing companies or companies that are of a comparable scale to Stratasys.

Note: Based on public information available and Stratasys' assessment

...While Stratasys' Board is Highly Qualified with Relevant Sector Experience

The Stratasys Board consists of highly qualified directors with relevant sector and public board experience. The Stratasys Board has a balanced tenure, including four directors who have served for six to ten years, three directors for under six years and one director for over 11 years, and maintains strong governance practices and policies in line or better than market standards.

How will Nano's nominees act on Stratasys' Board if elected? A Nano-controlled Board could sell Stratasys without shareholders receiving adequate compensation, replace Stratasys' highly experienced management team, force Stratasys into a value-eroding business combination, or block Stratasys from engaging in discussions regarding any transactions that would maximize value for Stratasys shareholders.

Mr. Stern admits that Nano's nominees are not independent or qualified to act in Stratasys shareholders' long term best interests, and recently promised that he will replace his director nominees, which are also Nano employees, with independent directors "for the long term." Based on his past, inconsistent behavior and statements, we do not believe he can be trusted to live up to this statement. Mr. Stern provides no timetable for these Board changes to happen, which means your investment in Stratasys could be at significant risk for a long time if he and his employees gain control of the Stratasys Board.

The fact that Nano and Mr. Stern did not put forth an independent, qualified board that is Nasdaq- and SEC-compliant from the outset shows that they are not serious about corporate governance and needed to be “reminded” by Stratasys’ proxy materials about those legal requirements. This is not the shareholder or slate of directors to whom you can entrust your investment in Stratasys.

HELP ENSURE STRATASYS CAN CONTINUE TO BUILD ON ITS PROGRESS TO DELIVER OUTSIZED AND ENDURING SHAREHOLDER VALUE.

Stratasys’ Board unanimously recommends that Stratasys shareholders vote on the WHITE proxy card “FOR” the re-election of the Stratasys Slate at the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders (the “Meeting”) on August 8, 2023.

VOTE TODAY ON THE WHITE PROXY CARD “FOR” THE RE-ELECTION OF THE STRATASYS SLATE: S. Scott Crump, John J. McElenny, Dov Ofer, Ziva Patir, David Reis, Michael Schoellhorn, Yair Seroussi and Adina Shorr.

Thank you for your support.

Team Stratasys,

As part of our commitment to keeping you informed, I wanted to provide an update regarding Nano Dimension's revised unsolicited partial tender offer to acquire between 31.9% and 36.9% of the outstanding ordinary shares of Stratasys.

We issued a press release announcing that our Board, after consultation with its independent financial and legal advisors, unanimously determined that the revised partial tender offer by Nano Dimension for $25 per share is misleading, illusory, continues to significantly undervalue the Company as a whole and is NOT in the best interests of all Stratasys shareholders. Accordingly, the Board unanimously recommends that shareholders reject the revised partial offer, deliver a Notice of Objection against the partial offer and do NOT tender their Stratasys shares in the partial offer.

Previous objections remain viable and do not require additional action. That said, for employees who are shareholders, there is no workable, confidential avenue for submitting your Notice of Objection. As such, at this point no action is required. Any updates and/or new information regarding the process will be communicated.

It's important to remember that these ongoing developments regarding our company do not impact the progress we are making to strengthen our business. As we move forward, the most important thing for you to do is to stay focused on your day-to-day responsibilities and continue delivering the exceptional products and services our customers expect from Stratasys.

As always, please forward any calls you receive from outside parties, including members of the media, investors and analysts to Yonah Lloyd at Yonah.Lloyd@stratasys.com.

Thank you again and let's keep up the good work.

Yours,
Yoav
